PROJECTS / OPEN-SOURCE

RPS Battle Arena Link This Rock Paper Scissors game is built using Tkinter for the GUI, Pillow (PIL) for handling images, and random for generating the computers choice. The user selects Rock, Paper, or Scissors, and the computer makes a random choice. The game then determines the winner based on standard rules and displays the result along with images representing both choices. The interface includes buttons for user selection, labels for displaying images, and a result message indicating whether the user won, lost, or tied.	python gui was used
